PEACHTREE INSULATED IMPACT PRODUCTS PROVIDE BEAUTIFUL WINDOWS & DOORS FOR DEMANDING CLIMATES

GAINESVILLE, Ga. — Insulated Hurricane Impact Products from Peachtree®

Doors and Windows beautifully meet the stringent wind-borne debris codes of the eastern United States. This collection of windows and patio doors are available as part of Peachtree's 700 Series.

To meet the codes, Peachtree's glazing starts with a strong layer of polyvinyl butral (PVB) that is bonded between two panes of glass. Should the glass break, the laminated interlayer is designed to remain intact, minimizing the vulnerability of a home and its contents.

"Peachtree's Insulated Hurricane Impact windows and doors are both attractive and practical for homeowners in areas susceptible to high winds and extreme temperatures," said Jeff Kibler, Peachtree brand manager. "In mild weather or fierce storms, the windows and patio doors provide great looks, easy-living features, protection and peace of mind."

Peachtree's insulated impact products include outswing patio doors, double hungs, casements (in single, double and triple configurations), and direct set/picture windows (in single and double configurations). These products have been tested to Missile level D in accordance with ASTM 1886 and ASTM 1996.
